

One of the most important Romanian IT events in 2007

eLiberatica

The Benefits of Open & Free Technologies

May 18-19 , Braşov, Romania

Presentation Booklet

The eLiberatica Conference brings community leaders from around the world to talk about the hottest topics in FLOSS (Free/Libre/Open Source Software) movement demonstrating the advantages of adopting, using and developing Open Source and Free Software solutions.

“We started with the belief that FLOSS can contribute to a creative, effective and constructive information technology movement in Romania and that eLiberatica will be a conference that helps to launch this movement.” ROSI eLiberatica will be the first conference in Romania dedicated to Free Software and Open Source as a whole, making it the most eastern point of Europe for such an event.

The Difference

FLOSS-related conferences have been held in Romania before, but were focused on a single FLOSS technology or software.

eLiberatica will provide a high level view on the entire FLOSS movement that includes business, social and technical aspects.

Who should attend

- ▶ Entrepreneurs, decision factors from companies and freelancers.
- ▶ Decision factors involved in the local and governmental administration and non-governmental representatives.
- ▶ Programmers, developers, web designers, system engineers, project managers and everyone else working in IT.
- ▶ Students and teachers, regardless of their study domain.
- ▶ Everyone from Mass Media.
- ▶ Computer users in general. (We are strongly convinced that anybody who is using or is going to use a computer, will find useful and interesting information attending this conference).

Organizers

The Conference Objectives

- ▶ To reveal the general Open Source and Free Software concepts, the differences between the two trends and the types of licenses used in this area.
- ▶ To demonstrate that Open Source and Free Software is a valid alternative to proprietary software.
- ▶ To present the possibilities to use and develop Open Source and Free Software in Romania.
- ▶ To present various business models based on OS/FS and the way they can be implemented by Romanian entrepreneurs.
- ▶ To help local and national governments understand how FLOSS is a viable and strong option for their IT needs.
- ▶ To help strengthen the Romanian FLOSS community and increase it's ties to the global FLOSS community.
- ▶ To help strengthen the Romanian FLOSS community and increase it's ties to the global FLOSS community.

Proposed Topics

- ▶ Open Source and Free Software: meaning, philosophy, past, present and future.
- ▶ OS/FS license models and related legal aspects.
- ▶ Business models based on OS/FS. How using and developing OS/FS can turn into a successful business.
- ▶ Freedom of choice; FLOSS mainstream and democracy information.
- ▶ How to achieve professional reputation contributing to OS/FS projects.
- ▶ OS/FS alternative for companies and regular users. Examples of OS/FS applications that can successfully replace the proprietary software: operating systems, office software, CMS, web servers, web applications, project administration, etc.
- ▶ The FLOSS influence in the new IT trends: the need of standardization, building social communities on web, etc.

Summary

Around 30 sessions will span the two-day two tracks conference which will be held on Friday 18th - Saturday 19th, May 2007, and will be topped off with a sprinkling of social events.

Each day will start at 9 am and finish around 6pm with a few breaks throughout the day, not to mention the Freedom & Networking Party that is going to take place Saturday night, giving plenty of opportunity to socialize, meet other people and have fun.

The detailed conference schedule will be updated as far as we are going to receive the description of the presentation from the speakers and guests and the keynotes will be scheduled.

Notes about keynote speeches

- ▶ Usually speeches will be 30, 40 or 60 minutes in length but will be provided the optimal time for all the speakers to finish their presentations.
- ▶ The language of the conference will be mainly English but we expect some Romanian presentations too; anyway, there will be translation services provided in both languages on the headset.
- ▶ The conference will have a single track in the morning, consisting in more general talks about OS/FS, and two tracks in the afternoon: one track will hold academics/technical presentations and the other one will present practical solutions and case studies about Open Source/Free Software commercial implementation.
